"Dr. Alex del Carmen's work on racial profiling exemplifies the very best of the Sandra Bland Act, named after my daughter. My daughter's pledge to fight for injustice is best represented in the high quality of Dr. del Carmen's reports which include, as required by law, the data analysis, audits, findings and recommendations. I commend the agencies that work with him as it is clear that they have embraced transparency and adherence to the law."

Lewisville City Council
1187 W. Main Street
Lewisville, TX 75067

Dear Distinguished Members of the City Council,

In 2001 the Texas Legislature, with the intent of addressing the issue of racial profiling in policing, enacted the Texas Racial Profiling Law. During the last calendar year, the Lewisville Police Department, in accordance with the law, has collected and reported traffic and motor vehicle related contact data for the purpose of identifying and addressing (if necessary) areas of concern regarding racial profiling practices. In the 2009 Texas legislative session, the Racial Profiling Law was modified and additional requirements were implemented. Further, in 2017 the Sandra Bland Act was passed and signed into law (along with HB 3051, which introduced new racial and ethnic designations). The Sandra Bland Law currently requires that law enforcement agencies in the state collect additional data and provide a more detailed analysis. All of these requirements have been met by the Lewisville Police Department and are included in this report.

This report consists of three sections with information on motor vehicle-related contacts. In addition, when appropriate, documentation is included which demonstrates the manner in which the Lewisville Police Department has complied with the Texas Racial Profiling Law. In section one, you will find the table of contents. Section two documents compliance by the Lewisville Police Department relevant to the requirements established in the Texas Racial Profiling Law. That is, you will find documents relevant to the training of all police personnel on racial profiling prevention and the institutionalization of the compliment and complaint processes, as required by law.

Finally, section three contains statistical data relevant to contacts (as defined by the law) which were made during the course of motor vehicle stops that took place between 1/1/22 and 12/31/22. Further, this section contains the Tier 2 form, which is required to be submitted to this particular organization and the law enforcement agency's local governing authority by March 1 of each year. The data in this report has been analyzed and compared to information derived from the U.S. Census Bureau's Fair Roads Standard. The final analysis and recommendations are also included in this report.

The last section of the report includes the original draft of the Texas Racial Profiling Law, SB1074, as well as the Sandra Bland Act (current law). Also in this section, a list of requirements relevant to the Racial Profiling Law, as established by TCOLE (Texas Commission on Law Enforcement), is included. The findings in this report support the Lewisville Police Department's commitment to comply with the Texas Racial Profiling Law.

Sincerely,

Alex del Carmen, Ph.D.

Public Education on Responding to Compliments and Complaints

Informing the Public on the Process of Filing a Compliment or Complaint with the Lewisville Police Department

The Texas Racial Profiling Law requires that police agencies provide information to the public regarding the manner in which to file a compliment or racial profiling complaint. In an effort to comply with this particular component, the Lewisville Police Department launched an educational campaign aimed at informing the public on issues relevant to the racial profiling complaint process.

The police department made available, in the lobby area and on its web site, information relevant to filing a compliment and complaint on a racial profiling violation by a Lewisville Police Officer. In addition, each time an officer issues a citation, ticket or warning, information on how to file a compliment or complaint is given to the individual cited. This information is in the form of a web address (including in the document issued to the citizen), which has instructions and details specifics related to the compliment or complaint processes.

It is believed that through these efforts, the community has been properly informed of the new policies and the complaint processes relevant to racial profiling.

All Lewisville Police Officers have been instructed, as specified in the Texas Racial Profiling Law, to adhere to all Texas Commission on Law Enforcement (TCOLE) training and the Law Enforcement Management Institute of Texas (LEMIT) requirements. To date, all sworn officers of the Lewisville Police Department have completed the TCOLE basic training on racial profiling. The main outline used to train the officers of Lewisville has been included in this report.

It is important to recognize that the Chief of the Lewisville Police Department has also met the training requirements, as specified by the Texas Racial Profiling Law, in the completion of the LEMIT program on racial profiling. The satisfactory completion of the racial profiling training by the sworn personnel of the Lewisville Police Department fulfills the training requirement as specified in the Education Code (96.641) of the Texas Racial Profiling Law.

2.0 RACIAL PROFILING AND THE COMMUNITY

2.1 UNIT GOAL: The student will be able to identify logical and social arguments against racial profiling.

2.1.1 LEARNING OBJECTIVE: The student will be able to identify logical and social arguments against racial profiling.

- A. There are appropriate reasons for unusual traffic stops (suspicious behavior, the officer's intuition, MOs, etc.), but police work must stop short of cultural stereotyping and racism.
- B. Racial profiling would result in criminal arrests, but only because it would target all members of a race randomly – the minor benefits would be far outweighed by the distrust and anger towards law enforcement by minorities and the public as a whole .
- C. Racial profiling is self-fulfilling bad logic: if you believed that minorities committed more crimes, then you might look for more minority criminals, and find them in disproportionate numbers.
- D. Inappropriate traffic stops generate suspicion and antagonism towards officers and make future stops more volatile – a racially-based stop today can throw suspicion on tomorrow's legitimate stop.
- E. By focusing on race, you would not only be harassing innocent citizens, but overlooking criminals of all races and backgrounds – it is a waste of law enforcement resources.

3.0 RACIAL PROFILING VERSUS REASONABLE SUSPICION

3.1 UNIT GOAL: The student will be able to identify the elements of both inappropriate and appropriate traffic stops.

3.1.1 LEARNING OBJECTIVE: The student will be able to identify elements of a racially motivated traffic stop.

- A. Most race-based complaints come from vehicle stops, often since race is used as an inappropriate substitute for drug courier profile elements
- B. "DWB" – "Driving While Black" – a nickname for the public perception that a Black person may be stopped solely because of their race (especially with the suspicion that they are a drug courier), often extended to other minority groups or activities as well ("Driving While Brown," "Flying While Black," etc.)
- C. A typical traffic stop resulting from racial profiling
 1. The vehicle is stopped on the basis of a minor or contrived traffic violation which is used as a pretext for closer inspection of the vehicle, driver, and passengers
 2. The driver and passengers are questioned about things that do not relate to the traffic violation
 3. The driver and passengers are ordered out of the vehicle
 4. The officers visually check all observable parts of the vehicle
 5. The officers proceed on the assumption that drug courier work is involved by detaining the driver and passengers by the roadside
 6. The driver is asked to consent to a vehicle search – if the driver refuses, the officers use other procedures (waiting on a canine unit, criminal record checks, license-plate checks, etc.), and intimidate the driver (with the threat of detaining him/her, obtaining a warrant, etc.)

3.1.2 LEARNING OBJECTIVE: The student will be able to identify elements of a traffic stop which would constitute reasonable suspicion of drug courier activity.

- A. Drug courier profile (adapted from a profile developed by the DEA)
 1. Driver is nervous or anxious beyond the ordinary anxiety and cultural communication styles
 2. Signs of long-term driving (driver is unshaven, has empty food containers, etc.)
 3. Vehicle is rented
 4. Driver is a young male, 20-35
 5. No visible luggage, even though driver is traveling
 6. Driver was over-reckless or over-cautious in driving and responding to signals
 7. Use of air fresheners

- B. Drug courier activity indicators by themselves are usually not sufficient to justify a stop

3.1.3 LEARNING OBJECTIVE: The student will be able to identify elements of a traffic stop which could constitute reasonable suspicion of criminal activity.

- A. Thinking about the totality of circumstances in a vehicle stop

- B. Vehicle exterior
 1. Non-standard repainting (esp. on a new vehicle)
 2. Signs of hidden cargo (heavy weight in trunk, windows do not roll down, etc.)
 3. Unusual license plate suggesting a switch (dirty plate, bugs on back plate, etc.)
 4. Unusual circumstances (pulling a camper at night, kids' bikes with no kids, etc.)

- C. Pre-stop indicators
 1. Not consistent with traffic flow
 2. Driver is overly cautious, or driver/passengers repeatedly look at police car
 3. Driver begins using a car- or cell-phone when signaled to stop
 4. Unusual pull-over behavior (ignores signals, hesitates, pulls onto new street, moves objects in car, etc.)

- D. Vehicle interior
 1. Rear seat or interior panels have been opened, there are tools or spare tire, etc.
 2. Inconsistent items (anti-theft club with a rental, unexpected luggage, etc.)

Analysis and Interpretation of Data

In 2001, the Texas Legislature passed Senate Bill 1074, which eventually became the Texas Racial Profiling Law. This particular law came into effect on January 1, 2002 and required all police departments in Texas to collect traffic-related data and report this information to their local governing authority by March 1 of each year. This law remained in place until 2009, when it was modified to include the collection and reporting of all motor vehicle-related contacts in which a citation was issued or an arrest was made. Further, the modification to the law further requires that all police officers indicate whether or not they knew the race or ethnicity of the individuals before detaining them. In addition, it became a requirement that agencies report motor vehicle-related data to their local governing authority and to the Texas Commission on Law Enforcement (TCOLE) by March 1 of each year. The purpose in collecting and disclosing this information is to determine if police officers in any particular municipality are engaging in the practice of racially profiling minority motorists.

One of the central requirements of the law is that police departments interpret motor vehicle-related data. Even though most researchers would likely agree that it is within the confines of good practice for police departments to be accountable to the citizenry while carrying a transparent image before the community, it is in fact very difficult to determine if individual police officers are engaging in racial profiling from a review and analysis of aggregate/institutional data. In other words, it is challenging for a reputable researcher to identify specific "individual" racist behavior from aggregate-level "institutional" data on traffic or motor vehicle-related contacts.

As previously noted, in 2009 the Texas Legislature passed House Bill 3389, which modified the Racial Profiling Law by adding new requirements; this took effect on January 1, 2010. The changes included, but are not limited to, the re-definition of a contact to include motor vehicle-related contacts in which a citation was issued or an arrest was made. In addition, it required police officers to indicate if they knew the race or ethnicity of the individual before detaining them. The 2009 law also required adding "Middle Eastern" to the racial and ethnic category and submitting the annual data report to TCOLE before March 1 of each year.

More recently, in 2017 the Texas Legislators passed HB 3051 which removed the Middle Eastern data requirement while standardizing the racial and ethnic categories relevant to the individuals that came in contact with police. In addition, the Sandra Bland Act (SB 1849) was passed and became law. Thus, the most significant legislative mandate (Sandra Bland Act) in Texas history regarding data requirements on law enforcement contacts became law and took effect on January 1, 2018. The Sandra Bland Act not only currently requires the extensive collection of data relevant to police motor vehicle contacts, but it also mandates for the data to be analyzed while addressing the following:

1. A comparative analysis of the information compiled (under Article 2.133):

- a. Evaluate and compare the number of motor vehicle stops, within the applicable jurisdiction, of persons who are recognized as racial or ethnic minorities and persons who are not recognized as racial or ethnic minorities;*
- b. Examine the disposition of motor vehicle stops made by officers employed by the agency, categorized according to the race or ethnicity of the affected persons, as appropriate, including any searches resulting from stops within the applicable jurisdiction;*
- c. Evaluate and compare the number of searches resulting from motor vehicle stops within the applicable jurisdiction and whether contraband or other evidence was discovered in the course of those searches.*

2. Information related to each complaint filed with the agency alleging that a peace officer employed by the agency has engaged in racial profiling.

As part of their effort to comply with The Texas Racial Profiling/Sandra Bland Law, the Lewisville Police Department commissioned the analysis of its 2022 contact data. Hence, two different types of data analyses were performed. The first of these involved a careful evaluation of the 2022 motor vehicle-related data. This particular analysis measured, as required by the law, the number and percentage of Whites, Blacks, Hispanics or Latinos, Asians and Pacific Islanders, Alaska Natives and American Indians (Middle Easterners and individuals belonging to the “other” category, as optional categories), who came in contact with police in the course of a motor vehicle-related contact and were either issued a ticket, citation, or warning or an arrest was made. Also included in this data were instances when a motor vehicle contact took place for an alleged violation of the law or ordinance. The Tier 2 data analysis included, but was not limited to, information relevant to the number and percentage of contacts by race/ethnicity, gender, reason for the stop, location of stop, searches while indicating the type of search performed, result of stop, basis of an arrest, and use of physical force resulting in bodily injury.

The additional data analysis performed was based on a comparison of the 2022 motor vehicle contact data with a specific baseline. When reading this particular analysis, one should consider that there is disagreement in the literature regarding the appropriate baseline to be used when analyzing motor vehicle-related contact information. Of the baseline measures available, the Lewisville Police Department accepted our recommendation to rely, as a baseline measure, on the Fair Roads Standard. This particular baseline is established on data obtained through the U.S. Census Bureau (2020) relevant to the number of households that have access to vehicles while controlling for the race and ethnicity of the heads of households.

It should be noted that the census data presents challenges to any effort made at establishing a fair and accurate racial profiling analysis. That is, census data contains information on all residents of a particular community, regardless whether they are among the driving population. Further, census data, when used as a baseline of comparison, presents the challenge that it captures information related to city residents only, thus excluding individuals who may have come in contact with the Lewisville Police Department in 2022 but live outside city limits. In some jurisdictions the percentage of the population that comes in contact with the police but lives outside city limits represents a substantial volume of all motor vehicle-related contacts made in a given year.

In 2002, some civil rights groups in Texas expressed their concern and made recommendations to the effect that all police departments should rely, in their data analysis, on the Fair Roads Standard. This source contains census data specific to the number of “households” that have access to vehicles. Thus, proposing to compare “households” (which may have multiple residents and only a few vehicles) with “contacts” (an individual-based count). In essence this constitutes a comparison that may result in ecological fallacy. Despite this risk, as noted earlier, the Lewisville Police Department accepted the recommendation to utilize this form of comparison (i.e., census data relevant to households with vehicles) in an attempt to demonstrate its “good will” and “transparency” before the community. Thus, the Fair Roads Standard data obtained and used in this study is specifically relevant to the Dallas Fort-Worth (DFW) Metroplex.

Tier 2 (2022) Motor Vehicle-Related Contact Analysis

When examining the enhanced and more detailed Tier 2 data collected in 2022, it was evident that most motor vehicle-related contacts were made with Whites, followed by Blacks. Of those who came in contact with police, most tickets or citations were issued to Whites and Blacks; this was followed by Hispanics. However, in terms of written warnings, most of these were issued to Whites, followed by Blacks.

On searches and arrests, the data showed that most searches took place among Blacks. When considering all searches, most were consented by Whites and Blacks, while most custody arrests were of Blacks. Overall, most searches resulted in contraband; of those that produced contraband, most were of Blacks; this was followed by Whites. Of the searches that did not produce contraband, most were of Blacks. Most arrests were made of Blacks. Most of the arrests that originated from a violation of the penal code involved Hispanics. Overall, the police department does not report any instances where force was used that resulted in bodily injury.

Comparative Analysis

A comprehensive analysis of the motor vehicle contacts to the census data relevant to the number of “households” in DFW who indicated in the 2020 census that they had access to vehicles, produced interesting findings. Specifically, the percentage of Whites and American Indians who came in contact with police was the same or lower than the percentage of White and American Indian households in DFW that claimed in the 2020 census to have access to vehicles. The opposite was true of Blacks, Hispanics, and Asians. That is, a higher percentage of Blacks, Hispanics, and Asians came in contact with police than the percentage of Black, Hispanic, and Asian households in DFW that claimed in the 2020 census to have access to vehicles. It should be noted that the percentage difference among Asian contacts with households is of 3%; thus, deemed by some as statistically insignificant.

The comprehensive analysis of the searches resulting in contraband shows that the most significant contraband hit rate is of Blacks. This was followed by Whites and Asians. This means that among all searches performed in 2022, the most significant percentage of these that resulted in contraband was among Blacks. The lowest contraband hit rate was among American Indians.

Summary of Findings

As referenced earlier, the most recent Texas Racial Profiling Law requires that police departments perform data audits in order to validate the data being reported. Consistent with this requirement, the Lewisville Police Department has engaged del Carmen Consulting, LLC in order to perform these audits in a manner consistent with normative statistical practices. As shown in Table 6, the audit performed reveals that the data is valid and reliable. Further, as required by law, this report also includes an analysis on the searches performed. This analysis includes information on whether contraband was found as a result of the search while controlling for race/ethnicity. The search analysis demonstrates that the police department is engaging in search practices consistent with national trends in law enforcement.

While considering the findings produced as a result of this analysis, it is recommended that the Lewisville Police Department should continue to collect and evaluate additional information on motor vehicle contact data (i.e., reason for probable cause searches, contraband detected), which may prove to be useful when determining the nature of the contacts police officers are making with all individuals.

As part of this effort, the Lewisville Police Department should continue to:

- 1) Perform an independent analysis on contact and search data in the upcoming year.
- 2) Commission data audits in 2023 in order to assess data integrity; that is, to ensure that the data collected is consistent with the data being reported.

The comprehensive data analysis included in this report serves as evidence that the Lewisville Police Department has complied with the Texas Racial Profiling Law and all of its requirements. Further, the report demonstrates that the police department has incorporated a comprehensive racial profiling policy, currently offers information to the public on how to file a compliment or complaint, commissions quarterly data audits in order to ensure validity and reliability, collects and commissions the analysis of Tier 2 data, and ensures that the practice of racial profiling will not be tolerated.

Checklist

The following requirements were met by the Lewisville Police Department in accordance with The Texas Racial Profiling Law:

TCOLE GUIDELINES

Guidelines for Compiling and Reporting Data under Senate Bill 1074

Background

Senate Bill 1074 of the 77th Legislature established requirements in the Texas Code of Criminal Procedure (TCCP) for law enforcement agencies. The Commission developed this document to assist agencies in complying with the statutory requirements.

The guidelines are written in the form of standards using a style developed from accreditation organizations including the Commission on Accreditation for Law Enforcement Agencies (CALEA). The standards provide a description of what must be accomplished by an agency but allows wide latitude in determining how the agency will achieve compliance with each applicable standard.

Each standard is composed of two parts: the standard statement and the commentary. The standard statement is a declarative sentence that places a clear-cut requirement, or multiple requirements, on an agency. The commentary supports the standard statement but is not binding. The commentary can serve as a prompt, as guidance to clarify the intent of the standard, or as an example of one possible way to comply with the standard.

Standard 1

Each law enforcement agency has a detailed written directive that:

- clearly defines acts that constitute racial profiling;
- strictly prohibits peace officers employed by the agency from engaging in racial profiling;
- implements a process by which an individual may file a complaint with the agency if the individual believes a peace officer employed by the agency has engaged in racial profiling with respect to the individual filing the complaint;
- provides for public education relating to the complaint process;
- requires appropriate corrective action to be taken against a peace officer employed by the agency who, after investigation, is shown to have engaged in racial profiling in violation of the agency's written racial profiling policy; and
- requires the collection of certain types of data for subsequent reporting.

Commentary

Article 2.131 of the TCCP prohibits officers from engaging in racial profiling, and article 2.132 of the TCCP now requires a written policy that contains the elements listed in this standard. The article also specifically defines a law enforcement agency as it applies to this statute as an “agency of the state, or of a county, municipality, or other political subdivision of the state, that employs peace officers who make traffic stops in the routine performance of the officers’ official duties.”

The article further defines race or ethnicity as being of “a particular descent, including Caucasian, African, Hispanic, Asian, or Native American.” The statute does not limit the required policies to just these ethnic groups.

This written policy is to be adopted and implemented no later than January 1, 2002.

Standard 2

Each peace officer who stops a motor vehicle for an alleged violation of a law or ordinance regulating traffic, or who stops a pedestrian for any suspected offense reports to the employing law enforcement agency information relating to the stop, to include:

- a physical description of each person detained, including gender and the person’s race or ethnicity, as stated by the person, or, if the person does not state a race or ethnicity, as determined by the officer’s best judgment;
- the traffic law or ordinance alleged to have been violated or the suspected offense;
- whether the officer conducted a search as a result of the stop and, if so, whether the person stopped consented to the search;
- whether any contraband was discovered in the course of the search, and the type of contraband discovered;
- whether probable cause to search existed, and the facts supporting the existence of that probable cause;
- whether the officer made an arrest as a result of the stop or the search, including a statement of the offense charged;
- the street address or approximate location of the stop; and
- whether the officer issued a warning or citation as a result of the stop, including a description of the warning or a statement of the violation charged.

Commentary

The information required by 2.133 TCCP is used to complete the agency reporting requirements found in Article 2.134. A peace officer and an agency may be exempted from this requirement under Article 2.135 TCCP Exemption for Agencies Using Video and Audio Equipment. An agency may be exempt from this reporting requirement by applying for the funds from the Department of Public Safety for video and audio equipment and the State does not supply those funds. Section 2.135 (a)(2) states, “the governing body of the county or municipality served by the law enforcement agency, in conjunction with the law enforcement agency, certifies to the Department of Public Safety, not later than the date specified by rule by the department, that the law enforcement agency needs funds or video and audio equipment for the purpose of installing video and audio equipment as described by Subsection (a) (1) (A) and the agency does not receive from the state funds for video and audio equipment sufficient, as determined by the department, for the agency to accomplish that purpose.”

Standard 3

The agency compiles the information collected under 2.132 and 2.133 and analyzes the information identified in 2.133.

Commentary

Senate Bill 1074 from the 77th Session of the Texas Legislature created requirements for law enforcement agencies to gather specific information and to report it to each county or municipality served. New sections of law were added to the Code of Criminal Procedure regarding the reporting of traffic and pedestrian stops. Detained is defined as when a person stopped is not free to leave.

Article 2.134 TCCP requires the agency to compile and provide and analysis of the information collected by peace officer employed by the agency. The report is provided to the governing body of the municipality or county no later than March 1 of each year and covers the previous calendar year.

There is data collection and reporting required based on Article 2.132 CCP (tier one) and Article 2.133 CCP (tier two).

The minimum requirements for “tier one” data for traffic stops in which a citation results are:

- 1) the race or ethnicity of individual detained (race and ethnicity as defined by the bill means of “a particular descent, including Caucasian, African, Hispanic, Asian, or Native American”);
- 2) whether a search was conducted, and if there was a search, whether it was a consent search or a probable cause search; and
- 3) whether there was a custody arrest.

The minimum requirements for reporting on “tier two” reports include traffic and pedestrian stops. Tier two data include:

- 1) the detained person’s gender and race or ethnicity;
- 2) the type of law violation suspected, e.g., hazardous traffic, non-hazardous traffic, or other criminal investigation (the Texas Department of Public Safety publishes a categorization of traffic offenses into hazardous or non-hazardous);
- 3) whether a search was conducted, and if so whether it was based on consent or probable cause;
- 4) facts supporting probable cause;
- 5) the type, if any, of contraband that was collected;
- 6) disposition of the stop, e.g., arrest, ticket, warning, or release;
- 7) location of stop; and
- 8) statement of the charge, e.g., felony, misdemeanor, or traffic.

Tier one reports are made to the governing body of each county or municipality served by the agency an annual report of information if the agency is an agency of a county, municipality, or other political subdivision of the state. Tier one and two reports are reported to the county or municipality not later than March 1 for the previous calendar year beginning March 1, 2003. Tier two reports include a comparative analysis between the race and ethnicity of persons detained to see if a differential pattern of treatment can be discerned based on the disposition of stops including searches resulting from the stops. The reports also include information relating to each complaint filed with the agency alleging that a peace officer employed by the agency has engaged in racial profiling. An agency may be exempt from the tier two reporting requirement by applying for the funds from the Department of Public Safety for video and audio equipment and the State does not supply those funds [See 2.135 (a)(2) TCCP].

Reports should include both raw numbers and percentages for each group. Caution should be exercised in interpreting the data involving percentages because of statistical distortions caused by very small numbers in any particular category, for example, if only one American Indian is stopped and searched, that stop would not provide an accurate comparison with 200 stops among Caucasians with 100 searches. In the first case, a 100% search rate would be skewed data when compared to a 50% rate for Caucasians.

Standard 4

If a law enforcement agency has video and audio capabilities in motor vehicles regularly used for traffic stops, or audio capabilities on motorcycles regularly used to make traffic stops, the agency:

- adopts standards for reviewing and retaining audio and video documentation; and
- promptly provides a copy of the recording to a peace officer who is the subject of a complaint on written request by the officer.

Commentary

The agency should have a specific review and retention policy. Article 2.132 TCCP specifically requires that the peace officer be promptly provided with a copy of the audio or video recordings if the officer is the subject of a complaint and the officer makes a written request.

Standard 5

Agencies that do not currently have video or audio equipment must examine the feasibility of installing such equipment.

Commentary

None

Standard 6

Agencies that have video and audio recording capabilities are exempt from the reporting requirements of Article 2.134 TCCP and officers are exempt from the reporting requirements of Article 2.133 TCCP provided that:

- the equipment was in place and used during the proceeding calendar year; and
- video and audio documentation is retained for at least 90 days.

Commentary

The audio and video equipment and policy must have been in place during the previous calendar year. Audio and video documentation must be kept for at least 90 days or longer if a complaint has been filed. The documentation must be retained until the complaint is resolved. Peace officers are not exempt from the requirements under Article 2.132 TCCP.

Standard 7

Agencies have citation forms or other electronic media that comply with Section 543.202 of the Transportation Code.

Commentary

Senate Bill 1074 changed Section 543.202 of the Transportation Code requiring citations to include:

- race or ethnicity, and
- whether a search of the vehicle was conducted and whether consent for the search was obtained.

The Texas Law on Racial Profiling

S.B. No. 1074 - An Act relating to the prevention of racial profiling by certain peace officers.
BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

SECTION 1. Chapter 2, Code of Criminal Procedure, is amended by adding Articles 2.131 through 2.138 to read as follows:

(2) "Race or ethnicity" means of a particular descent, including Caucasian, African, Hispanic, Asian, or Native American descent.

(b) Each law enforcement agency in this state shall adopt a detailed written policy on racial profiling. The policy must:

(1) clearly define acts constituting racial profiling;

(2) strictly prohibit peace officers employed by the agency from engaging in racial profiling;

(3) implement a process by which an individual may file a complaint with the agency if the individual believes that a peace officer employed by the agency has engaged in racial profiling with respect to the individual;

(4) provide public education relating to the agency's complaint process;

(5) require appropriate corrective action to be taken against a peace officer employed by the agency who, after an investigation, is shown to have engaged in racial profiling in violation of the agency's policy adopted under this article;

(c) The data collected as a result of the reporting requirements of this article shall not constitute prima facie evidence of racial profiling.

(d) On adoption of a policy under Subsection (b), a law enforcement agency shall examine the feasibility of installing video camera and transmitter-activated equipment in each agency law enforcement motor vehicle regularly used to make traffic stops and transmitter-activated equipment in each agency law enforcement motorcycle regularly used to make traffic stops. If a law enforcement agency installs video or audio equipment as provided by this subsection, the policy adopted by the agency under Subsection (b) must include standards for reviewing video and audio documentation.

(e) A report required under Subsection (b)(7) may not include identifying information about a peace officer who makes a traffic stop or about an individual who is stopped or arrested by a peace officer. This subsection does not affect the collection of information as required by a policy under Subsection (b)(6).

(1) a physical description of each person detained as a result of the stop, including:

(A) the person's gender; and

(B) the person's race or ethnicity, as stated by the person or, if the person does not state the person's race or ethnicity, as determined by the officer to the best of the officer's ability;

(2) the traffic law or ordinance alleged to have been violated or the suspected offense;

(3) whether the officer conducted a search as a result of the stop and, if so, whether the person detained consented to the search;

(4) whether any contraband was discovered in the course of the search and the type of contraband discovered;

(6) whether the officer made an arrest as a result of the stop or the search, including a statement of the offense charged;

(7) the street address or approximate location of the stop; and

(8) whether the officer issued a warning or a citation as a result of the stop, including a description of the warning or a statement of the violation charged.

Art. 2.134. COMPILATION AND ANALYSIS OF INFORMATION COLLECTED.

(a) In this article, "pedestrian stop" means an interaction between a peace officer and an individual who is being detained for the purpose of a criminal investigation in which the individual is not under arrest.

(b) A law enforcement agency shall compile and analyze the information contained in each report received by the agency under Article 2.133. Not later than March 1 of each year, each local law enforcement agency shall submit a report containing the information compiled during the previous calendar year to the governing body of each county or municipality served by the agency in a manner approved by the agency.

(c) A report required under Subsection (b) must include:

(1) a comparative analysis of the information compiled under Article 2.133 to:

(B) examine the disposition of traffic and pedestrian stops made by officers employed by the agency, including searches resulting from the stops; and

(2) information relating to each complaint filed with the agency alleging that a peace officer employed by the agency has engaged in racial profiling.

(d) A report required under Subsection (b) may not include identifying information about a peace officer who makes a traffic or pedestrian stop or about an individual who is stopped or arrested by a peace officer. This subsection does not affect the reporting of information required under Article 2.133(b)(1).

(e) The Commission on Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education shall develop guidelines for compiling and reporting information as required by this article.

(f) The data collected as a result of the reporting requirements of this article shall not constitute prima facie evidence of racial profiling.

Art. 2.135. EXEMPTION FOR AGENCIES USING VIDEO AND AUDIO EQUIPMENT. (a) A peace officer is exempt from the reporting requirement under Article 2.133 and a law enforcement agency is exempt from the compilation, analysis, and reporting requirements under Article 2.134 if:

(1) during the calendar year preceding the date that a report under Article 2.134 is required to be submitted:

(A) each law enforcement motor vehicle regularly used by an officer employed by the agency to make traffic and pedestrian stops is equipped with video camera and transmitter-activated equipment and each law enforcement motorcycle regularly used to make traffic and pedestrian stops is equipped with transmitter-activated equipment; and

(B) each traffic and pedestrian stop made by an officer employed by the agency that is capable of being recorded by video and audio or audio equipment, as appropriate, is recorded by using the equipment; or

(2) the governing body of the county or municipality served by the law enforcement agency, in conjunction with the law enforcement agency, certifies to the Department of Public Safety, not later than the date specified by rule by the department, that the law enforcement agency needs funds or video and audio equipment for the purpose of installing video and audio equipment as described by Subsection (a)(1)(A) and the agency does not receive from the state funds or video and audio equipment sufficient, as determined by the department, for the agency to accomplish that purpose.

(b) Except as otherwise provided by this subsection, a law enforcement agency that is exempt from the requirements under Article 2.134 shall retain the video and audio or audio documentation of each traffic and pedestrian stop for at least 90 days after the date of the stop. If a complaint is filed with the law enforcement agency alleging that a peace officer employed by the agency has engaged in racial profiling with respect to a traffic or pedestrian stop, the agency shall retain the video and audio or audio record of the stop until final disposition of the complaint.

(c) This article does not affect the collection or reporting requirements under Article 2.132.

Art. 2.136. LIABILITY. A peace officer is not liable for damages arising from an act relating to the collection or reporting of information as required by Article 2.133 or under a policy adopted under Article 2.132.

Art. 2.137. PROVISION OF FUNDING OR EQUIPMENT.

(a) The Department of Public Safety shall adopt rules for providing funds or video and audio equipment to law enforcement agencies for the purpose of installing video and audio equipment as described by Article 2.135(a)(1)(A), including specifying criteria to prioritize funding or equipment provided to law enforcement agencies. The criteria may include consideration of tax effort, financial hardship, available revenue, and budget surpluses. The criteria must give priority to:

(1) law enforcement agencies that employ peace officers whose primary duty is traffic enforcement;

(2) smaller jurisdictions; and

(3) municipal and county law enforcement agencies.

(b) The Department of Public Safety shall collaborate with an institution of higher education to identify law enforcement agencies that need funds or video and audio equipment for the purpose of installing video and audio equipment as described by Article 2.135(a)(1)(A). The collaboration may include the use of a survey to assist in developing criteria to prioritize funding or equipment provided to law enforcement agencies.

(c) To receive funds or video and audio equipment from the state for the purpose of installing video and audio equipment as described by Article 2.135(a)(1)(A), the governing body of a county or municipality, in conjunction with the law enforcement agency serving the county or municipality, shall certify to the Department of Public Safety that the law enforcement agency needs funds or video and audio equipment for that purpose.

(d) On receipt of funds or video and audio equipment from the state for the purpose of installing video and audio equipment as described by Article 2.135(a)(1)(A), the governing body of a county or municipality, in conjunction with the law enforcement agency serving the county or municipality, shall certify to the Department of Public Safety that the law enforcement agency has installed video and audio equipment as described by Article 2.135(a)(1)(A) and is using the equipment as required by Article 2.135(a)(1).

Art. 2.138. RULES. The Department of Public Safety may adopt rules to implement Articles 2.131-2.137.

SECTION 12. This Act takes effect September 1, 2001

President of the Senate

LEWISVILLE
POLICE DEPARTMENT
RACIAL PROFILING POLICY

LEWISVILLE POLICE DEPARTMENT GENERAL ORDER

NUMBER: 4.37

SUBJECT: BIAS-BASED PROFILING PROHIBITED

DATE OF ISSUE: 10/31/01

POLICY

All people have the right to be free from unwarranted government interference. Individuals may be stopped or detained only when there is reasonable suspicion to believe they have violated, are violating, or are about to violate a law or ordinance. Employees of the Lewisville Police Department are strictly prohibited from bias based profiling.

DEFINITIONS

“Bias-Based Profiling” means a law enforcement-initiated action based solely on a trait common to a specific group. This includes those traits defined below in “racial profiling,” as well as gender, sexual orientation, religion, economic status, age, and cultural group (or any other identifiable group). (Ref. Article 2.132 and 2.135 of the Texas Code of Criminal Procedure).

“Race or ethnicity” means the following categories:

- Alaska native or American Indian;
- Asian or Pacific Islander;
- black;
- white, and
- Hispanic or Latino

“Racial Profiling” means a law enforcement-initiated action based on an individual’s race, ethnicity, or national origin rather than on the individual’s behavior or on information identifying the individual as having engaged in criminal activity.

PROCEDURE

I. BIAS BASED PROFILING IS PROHIBITED

- A. If an allegation of bias-based profiling is sustained, the offending employee will be disciplined in accordance with City of Lewisville and Lewisville Police Department disciplinary policies.
- B. The Department will provide the accused employee with a copy of any existing audio or video recording of an occurrence creating an allegation of bias-based profiling.

II. TRAINING

- A. Officers shall complete a training program on racial profiling as specified by TCOLE not later than the second anniversary of the date the officer is licensed by TCOLE: or,
- B. The date the officer applies for an intermediate proficiency certificate, whichever date is earlier.

III. COMPLAINTS

- A. Refer anyone who wants to file a complaint regarding bias-based profiling to the IA unit.
- B. Information on how to file IA complaints will be available in the police lobby.

IV. COLLECTION OF INFORMATION ON MOTOR VEHICLE STOPS

- A. Officers will report the following information on all motor vehicle stops resulting in a citation, arrest, or warning (written or verbal), per CCP 2.132 & 2.133:
 - 1. The person's gender;
 - 2. The person's race or ethnicity as determined by the officer to the best of the officer's ability;
 - 3. Whether the officer conducted a search as a result of the stop and if so, whether the person detained consented to the search.
 - a. If a search was conducted; officers will also report:
 - i. Reason for the search;
 - ii. If contraband discovered;
 - iii. Description of contraband recovered;
 - 4. Whether the officer knew the race or ethnicity of the individual detained before detaining that individual;
 - 5. Whether the officer used physical force that resulted in bodily injury, as that term is defined by Section 1.07, Penal Code, during the stop;
 - 6. The location of the stop; and
 - 7. The reason for the stop;
 - 8. The result of the stop;
 - 9. The reason for any arrest.
- B. Report the information in a manner designated by the Department.

V. REPORTING

- A. The Chief of Police will submit an annual report of information collected in (Section IV) to the City Council by March 1st each year.
- B. The annual report will also contain information relating to each complaint filed alleging racial profiling.

VI. PUBLIC EDUCATION

- A. The Support Bureau will present programs regarding the Department's complaint process to interested groups.
- B. The Public Information Coordinator will include information on the Department's compliment and complaint process with each Chief's Executive Summary published to social media and encourage electronic and print media to present information regarding the Department's compliment and complaint process.

VII. MANAGEMENT

- A. If an allegation of racial profiling is made, the relevant recordings will be saved as evidence.
- B. The commander of each unit whose officers make motor vehicle stops in the routine performance of their official duties will randomly review motor vehicle stops. The commander will direct a supervisor to review at least three random videos of motor vehicle stops, at least every six months, per officer.
 - 1. Random video reviews should include both the in-car and body worn cameras.
 - 2. Document the review as designated by the Department along with reviews conducting in the course of investigating a complaint.
 - 3. Initiate appropriate action if deviations from this directive are detected.

Lewisville Police Department Search Data Analysis

At the request of Lewisville Police Department, an analysis of their 2022 search data was conducted with a view toward the discovery of evidence of racial profiling. Before conducting the analysis, the following should be noted.

Peace officers are required to apply the law and are obligated to operate without racial bias. While departments report their racial profile data to the State, a thorough evaluation of data is critical to gain better understanding of whether there is evidence of any racial profiling.

It is important, however, to distinguish between those actions of peace officers which are discretionary from those which are non-discretionary. Non-discretionary actions, obligate peace officers to apply the law to whatever situation they encounter, without regard to race. In other words, while necessary to review non-discretionary actions, there may be only a limited value to doing so, since the actions are largely obligatory. Discretionary actions, such as issuing citations or conducting consent searches, are better indicators of possible racial profiling, since the peace officer was under no obligation to act.

A brief review of the search data provided by Lewisville Police Department is listed below.

Search Data as Percentage

Lewisville Police conducted 14,067 motor vehicle stops in 2022. From those contacts, there were 676 searches conducted. Of the searches conducted, 518 were non-discretionary searches and 158 were discretionary (consent searches). Thus, 23% of searches were discretionary.

Table 1 below presents the raw data for motor vehicle stops and searches.

Table 1- Raw Data Disaggregated by Race

Lewisville Search Data	Stop Data	Discretion Search	Non Discretion Search					All Searches
	Stop Data	Consent	Contraband	Probable Cause	Inventory	Incident to Arrest	Non Discretionary Totals
Native American	63	1	0	0	0	0	0	1
Asian	1,098	1	0	7	9	0	16	17
Black	3,410	45	10	170	37	15	232	277
White	6,171	71	7	75	18	20	120	191

Totals	14,067	158	29	320	109	60	518	676

Table 2 presents the search data in percentages.

Table 2- Percentages Disaggregated by Race

Lewisville Search Data	Stop Data	Discretion Search	Non Discretion Search					All Search Percentage
	Stop Data	Consent Percentage	Contraband Percentage	Probable Cause Percentage	Inventory Percentage	Incident to Arrest Percentage	Non Discretionary Total Percentage
Native American	0.4%	0.6%	0.0%	0.0%	0.0%	0.0%	0.0%	0.1%
Asian	7.8%	0.6%	0.0%	2.2%	8.3%	0.0%	3.1%	2.5%
Black	24.2%	28.5%	34.5%	53.1%	33.9%	25.0%	44.8%	41.0%
White	43.9%	44.9%	24.1%	23.4%	16.5%	33.3%	23.2%	28.3%
Hispanic	23.6%	25.3%	41.4%	21.3%	41.3%	41.7%	29.0%	28.1%
Totals	100%	100%	100%	100%	100%	100%	100%	100%

When the search data is disaggregated by race in percentages, the following results are noted.

- Asians account for 7.8% of stops, but 2.5% of searches. Asian also account for only 0.6% of consent searches.
- Blacks account for 24.2% of stops, and 41% of searches. Blacks account for 28.5% of consent searches.
- Whites account for 43.9% of stops, and 28.3% of searches. Whites account for 44.9% of consent searches.
- Hispanics account for 23.6% of stops, and 28.1% of searches. Hispanics account for 25.3% of consent searches.
- Thus, Asians accounted for less of the percentage of consent searches than their portion of the stops. The opposite is true for Blacks, Hispanics, and Whites.

Statistical Test and Measures

To analyze further, the data was placed through several tests to determine the statistical relationship between the variables.

- Chi Square (X^2) Test. This test is conducted to gain understanding of the relationship between variables to determine the independence between datasets. Example, the data between Black consent searches is evaluated against the data for White consent searches to understand the relationship between the two.
- P-Value. After a X^2 test, the data is evaluated to determine a p-value, which indicates whether the relationship between variables is statistically significant. For purposes of this analysis, a p-value of .05 was set as the threshold for statistical significance. For reference, a p-value of less than .05 indicates a statistically significant relationship between variables, indicating that the relationship is not likely random.
- Phi Coefficient of Association. Finally, a measure of the Phi coefficient, which indicates the strength of the effect of the relationship between variables, was also conducted. For reference, a finding of Phi greater than .5 indicates a strong effect, .3 a medium effect, and anything less a small effect.

Methodology

Each of the above listed statistical measures was conducted on the data by the following methodology.

- Search Data. First, the full set of search data was tested. This includes discretionary and non-discretionary searches.
- Consent Search Data. Next, the subset of consent search was tested.
- Discretion Analysis. Finally, the two sets (discretion v. non-discretion) were evaluated independent of the stop data.
- Comprehensive Analysis. These tests were conducted on the entire stop and search dataset to determine statistical significance.
- Relative Analysis. These tests were conducted on each race using the data on White searches as the relative baseline. That is, Relative X^2 tests evaluate distribution of data between two races (Whites v Blacks, Whites v Hispanics, etc.), and will return a low p-value when a significant imbalance is detected. For example, if Whites were searched at a rate of 10% (one in ten White drivers were searched), but Hispanics were searched at a rate of 70% (seven in ten Hispanic drivers were searched), the imbalance in that distribution would result in statistically significant finding (low p-value). Meaning, it is highly unlikely that random processes would produce such an imbalanced distribution, which would indicate that the imbalance is more likely to be the result of racial profiling.

The findings from the above noted tests are listed below.

Search Data Findings

Table 3 displays the comprehensive X^2 findings on all search data. Table 4 displays the relative X^2 findings on all search data.

- Comprehensive. An evaluation of the comprehensive search data resulted in a relationship between variables that was significant, X² (4, N=14,067). This returned a p-value of 0.000.
- Relative. An evaluation of the baselines of each race measured against White search data resulted in statistical significance for Asians, X² (1, N=7,061), Blacks, X² (1, N=9,113), and Hispanics, X² (1, N=9,115). Each of these returned p-values of 0.000. The Phi coefficient on Asians returned at .033, Blacks at .112, and Hispanics at .064, all of which are indicative of small effects between the variable relationships.

Search Data Analysis Summary—While Asians, Blacks, and Hispanics all returned a statistically significant p-values, this test was included non-discretionary search data. That is, a significant portion of these searches were required by law or policy (such as the result of an arrest, contraband in plain view, etc.) and the low p-values here should only be understood as representing the imbalance in the data, and is not necessarily any indicator of racial profiling.

- Comprehensive. An evaluation of the comprehensive consent search data did not result in a relationship between variables that was significant, X² (4, N=14,067). This returned a p-value of 0.060, which is above the .05 threshold.
- Relative. An evaluation of the baselines of each race measured against White consent search data resulted in statistical significance only for Asians, X² (1, N=7,197). This returned a p-value of 0.001. However, despite the low p-value here, the imbalance appears to be the result of consent searching Whites at a significantly higher rate than Asians, and the fact that there was only one (1) consent search of Asians. The Phi coefficient on Asians returned at .038, which indicates a small effect between the variable relationships. Note on consent search findings. This measure is important in that it is an evaluation of what peace officers do when there is no other Fourth Amendment method of legally searching a vehicle. That is, consent searches are completely discretionary on the part of peace officers, and as such may be a better indicator of potential racial profiling.

Consent Search Data Analysis Summary—The findings in the analysis of consent searches did not return any findings of concern regarding racial profiling.

Discretionary Analysis Findings

Finally, a test was conducted on the search data with the stop data removed. Thus, the searches were dichotomized between discretionary (consent) searches and non-discretionary searches, to determine the statistical relationship between them, independent of the stop data. The results are displayed in the tables below.

- Comprehensive. An evaluation of the comprehensive search data, independent of stops, resulted in a relationship between variables that was significant, X² (4, N=676). This returned a p-value of 0.000.
- Relative. An evaluation of the baselines of each race measured against White search data resulted in statistical significance for Asians, X² (1, N=208), Blacks, X² (1, N=468), and for Hispanics, X² (1, N=381). These returned p-values of 0.009 (Asians), 0.000 (Blacks), and 0.005 (Hispanics). The Phi coefficient on Asians returned at .180, Blacks returned at .238 and for Hispanics at .177. Each of these only indicate a small effect between the variable relationships.

Discretionary Search Data Analysis Summary—These tests returned significant p-values for Asians, Blacks, and Hispanics when compared against Whites. As noted in the previous section, with only one (1) Asian consent search, the sample size is too small to be of significance. Overall, the imbalance appears to be the product of higher rates of discretionary searches of Whites, and not as the result of any racial profiling.

Contraband Hit Rate Analysis

Research on contraband hit rates has shown to be a potential indicator of racial bias (Becker, 1957).¹ Under the Becker Theory, searches that produce contraband should remain relatively consistent among races in order to indicate that officers are not operating with racial bias. Thus, a contraband hit rate that is significantly lower than the hit rate of Whites would warrant further analysis. The tables below are the results of hit rate analysis.

Table 9—Contraband Hit Rates from All Searches

Lewisville Search Data	Searches	No Contraband	Contraband	Hit Rate
Native American	1	0	1	100.0%
Asian	17	9	8	47.1%
Black	277	116	161	58.1%
White	191	92	99	51.8%
Hispanic	190	108	82	43.2%

White	71	50	21	29.6%
Hispanic	40	29	11	27.5%
Totals	158	114	44	27.8%

From Table 9, the contraband hit rate of Blacks (58.1%) was higher than Whites (51.8%), thus not of concern. The contraband hit rate of Hispanics (43.2%) was lower than Whites. The X^2 test (4, N=676) returned a non-statistically significant p-value of .082, and no race returned a statistically significant relative X^2 test when compared to Whites.

From Table 10, the contraband hit rate for consent searches is displayed. Both Blacks (26.7%) and Hispanics (27.5%) had slightly lower hit rates than Whites (29.6%). When evaluated on X^2 (4, N=158), the consent search hit data did not return statistical significance (p-value = .997). While Blacks and Hispanics did have slightly lower consent search hit rates, they were not statistically significant when evaluated on a relative X^2 test.

Contraband Hit Rate Analysis Summary—The analyses of contraband hit rates for both consent searches and all searches did not return any statistical significance, thus the data did not indicate concerns of racial profiling.

Summary

Data analysis of the 2022 Lewisville Police Department search data shows that Blacks comprise 24% of motor vehicle stops, but 41% of searches. Whereas Whites comprise 44% of stops, but only 28% of searches. This disparity is better understood when searches are disaggregated by discretionary and non-discretionary search activity. Non-discretionary searches require peace officers, either by law or policy, to conduct searches in certain circumstances, such as contraband in plain view, inventory, or incidental to an arrest. As such, non-discretionary searches may not be the best indicator of potential racial profiling.

Discretionary searches, while lawful under the Fourth Amendment, provide a better indicator of potential racial profiling, since at that point in the motor vehicle stop, the officer knows the race of the subject and has no other lawful means to search, and thus, may be acting on implicit bias. In this dataset, both Blacks and Whites had a higher percentage of discretionary searches than their percentages of the motor vehicle stops. Blacks comprised 24% of stops, but 28.5% of discretionary searches. Whites comprised 44% of stops and 44.9% of discretionary searches. Hispanics comprised 24% of stops and 25.3% of discretionary searches. The displacement of these races was the result of lower discretionary search percentages of Asians.

Finally, while statistical tests were conducted both comprehensively and against a relative baseline, and tests were conducted on non-discretionary and discretionary actions, the focus of these findings should rest on the relative baseline findings of the discretionary actions. As noted in this analysis, when focusing on the relative baseline findings of discretionary searches only, the X^2 test did not return statistical significance regarding consent searches, meaning the null hypothesis would fail to be rejected, indicating that there is no measurable racial profiling of concern in the aggregate consent search data.
